

With DMS One you will finally be able to make your own digital templates quick and easy, no more templates made out of wooden sticks. In a few minutes you can get the required measurements and save them as digital designs (DXF) quick to share over the internet. Every stone mason that wants to keep up with the modern times must use digital templates, with the advent of modern office computers and CNC machines, long gone are the times of cardboard templates.

AitalMAC's Digital Measuring System reduces or eliminates completely human error and the time spent to digitize jobs.

With DMS One you will drastically improve the impression
